

Morse, Ordered Back to U. S., Sails on Paris

Received No Answer, He Asserts, to His Request To Be Permitted to Remain in Europe Till January
Doesn't Like Stateroom

Shadowing by Detectives and Persistence of Reporters Also Irritate Him

HAVER, Dec. 5. (By The Associated Press).—The steamship Paris, having aboard Charles W. Morse, whose presence is desired in the United States by the Department of Justice at Washington, sailed at 10:30 o'clock to-night for New York.

Prior to the departure of the vessel Mr. Morse reiterated that he had received no reply from Attorney General Daugherty to his request to be permitted to remain in Europe until January to undergo medical treatment. Likewise, at the American consulate it was said no reply had been received through it for Mr. Morse.

"Come to meet me here some time in January," were Mr. Morse's parting words. "I surely will be back if I am still alive."

Mr. Morse slipped aboard the steamship so quietly that many of the ship's officers were unaware of his presence until he became dissatisfied with his stateroom, No. 278, which he shared with another passenger, and went to the purser and asked for another room. The purser said his request would be granted as soon as all the passengers had embarked, if a vacant stateroom was available.

One of the correspondents showed Mr. Morse a Paris dispatch, saying that he was under indictment. "I don't believe it," said the ship-builder. "It can't be true. I wouldn't care if it were, I am going back, and you couldn't drag me off this ship. I have had enough of this shadowing by detectives, which is quite discreet. That of the newspaper men is much less tactful and irritating."

The Foundation

A great business always has a sound foundation. Every guaranteed investment should be good without the guarantee.

The fact that conservative and experienced people are ready to risk their capital in guaranteeing the mortgage is assurance that it is good.

Carefully selected mortgages on real estate in Greater New York are a premier security, and the best evidence that they are carefully and wisely selected is that the Bond & Mortgage Guarantee Company, with its long history of successful business, offers them with principal and interest guaranteed by it.

14,000 Reported Making Garments on Old Terms

Strikers' Chief Declares That
370 Shops in New York
Alone Have Capitulated

Benjamin Schlesinger, president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, yesterday made public figures which he asserts show "smashing inroads into the ranks of the manufacturers."

According to these figures, approximately 14,000 of the strikers have returned to work in 370 shops in New York alone, all of them on the old "week work" agreement for which the union is fighting and which the manufacturers are accused of violating. These 14,000 represent more than one-fourth of the total number of those who went on strike.

In addition, Mr. Schlesinger said that 450 more shops have made application to the union for settlements through the headquarters of the settlement committee in the Hotel Continental. Favorable passing on these applications would mean a return to work of at least 14,000 more of the strikers, he said.

Settlements of equal comparative importance have been reached in connection with the strikes in Chicago, Philadelphia and Cleveland, Mr. Schlesinger said. He mentioned Percival B. Palmer & Co., in Chicago, which, he said, is the largest cloak and suit manufacturing house in the West, employing 700 workers.

Mr. Schlesinger denied that any secret meetings between representatives of the union and of the manufacturers' association have been held.

British War Mother Overcome

Four Accused Of $25,000 Rum Permit Fraud

Arrested as Alcohol Taken
From Warehouse on Bogus Documents Is Being Put Aboard Big Truck

Check Rum-Running Plot

Detention of Alleged Ring-
Leader Bares Liquor-
From-Scotland Gang Plan

A seven-ton truck was being loaded with barrels of grain alcohol at a warehouse at 750 Washington Street yesterday afternoon when Revenue Agents Leo Keyes and Eugene O'Brien arrested four men said to be responsible for the mailing of liquor withdrawal permits to the warehouse. The permits, the revenue agents declared, were counterfeit.

Three of the prisoners were near the truck and the fourth was in his automobile a short distance away when the government men reached the scene. Alcohol valued at approximately $25,000 had been placed on the truck when the loading of the vehicle was interrupted. The four men were taken before Maxwell S. Mattuck, Assistant United States District Attorney, and questioned, and then removed to Police Headquarters, where they were locked up, charged with attempting to defraud the government by counterfeiting withdrawal permits.

The men described themselves as John Thomaselli, of 58 West Forty-third Street, said to be the owner of the truck; James Sabello, of 163 Mulberry Street; Lawrence Varrell, of 7509 Fourteenth Avenue, Brooklyn, and Alfred Troise, of 1362 Seventy-second Street, Brooklyn.

The permits presented at the warehouse for 100 barrels of alcohol and the entire lot was to go, according to the prisoners, to the New Jersey Wholesale Drug Company, Inc., 56 Arlington Street, Newark.

Sabello was in the automobile when the revenue agents arrived. He was arrested out of the car and while being questioned in front of the warehouse the machine was stolen, it was said. Troise, according to the government men, had $1,500 when arrested.

The revenue agents declared that other arrests are expected to be made in connection with the counterfeiting of the permits presented by the four prisoners.

An alleged plot to organize a rum-running fleet to bring liquors from Scotland rather than the Bahamas is believed by Major J. Holly Clark, Assistant United States District Attorney, to have been frustrated by the arrest yesterday in Harrisburg, Pa., of Charles Scandalus, known as "Charlie the Greek." Scandalus is wanted in Brooklyn on two indictments charging his connection with a smuggling ring.

Six alleged members of this ring were indicted in Brooklyn by the Federal Grand Jury, and "Charlie the Greek," alleged by Major Clark to be the financial head of the ring, is the fifth to be arrested. One man said to be the executive head of the alleged rum smugglers, still is at large, and for this reason his name is withheld.

"The idea of bringing liquor direct from Scotland," said Major Clark, "was talked of because the ring believed it could get better stuff in Scotland than in the Bahamas. While their schooners were all small craft, they naturally would not run them to Scotland, but more likely intended to ship the Scotch legitimately to Nova Scotia ports and run it from there in the schooners."

Scandalus was arrested by Special Agent Herbert E. Lucas, under direction of Chief Revenue Agent Hugh McQuillan, who said he believed the prisoner would resist removal to this city.

Murphy Annulment Suit Held Up by Lawyer's Absence

Action Follows Decree in Reno and Is Counter to Separation Fight by Wife,
Who Is Former Secretary

Because of the prior engagement of Max D. Steuer, one of the attorneys, in another court, Justice Hotchkiss yesterday adjourned the trial of an annulment suit brought by Edward Mallet-Prevost Murphy against Mrs. Gertrude Stickle Murphy, which the husband has brought as a counter claim to the separation suit of the wife.

Mr. Murphy is a brother of Grayson M. P. Murphy, who was the head of the Red Cross during the war. Mr. Murphy is vice-president of the Finance and Trading Corporation at 52 Broadway.

A little more than a year ago, Mr. Murphy, in Reno, Nev., obtained a decree of annulment of his marriage to Miss Stickle and then married Mrs. Sydney E. Price Johnston, widow of a United States army officer. They are living at 911 Park Avenue.

Mrs. Gertrude Stickle Murphy was secretary to her husband. Their marriage, it was said, was approved by the members of Mr. Murphy's family with the exception of his brother, Grayson M. P. Murphy, who is quoted as saying he would have preferred to have his brother marry a society girl. Mrs. Murphy sued for a separation in 1920, alleging abandonment. Her husband's answer was a counter claim to have their marriage annulled. In the mean time he went to Reno, established a legal residence there and obtained a decree of annulment, later marrying Mrs. Johnston.

The first Mrs. Murphy refuses to recognize the validity of the Reno decree and insists that she is still the wife of Mr. Murphy, as she never defected the Nevada suit and was never a resident of that state. She continues to sue for a separation and Mr. Murphy's counter claim for annulment have also still stands, although he considers the marriage already severed by the Reno decree.

Prosecutor Convicted of Blackmail in Rum Case

New Britain, Conn., Man Tried
Without Jury, Fined and Given Suspended Term

Special Dispatch to The Tribune
HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 5.—Albert A. Greenberg, prosecuting attorney of New Britain, tried last week without a jury on charges of blackmail and accepting a bribe, was found guilty of blackmail and not guilty of the latter charge by Judge Wolf in the Superior Court to-day.

The courtroom was crowded when the decision was announced. Greenberg was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and to serve six months in jail. The court then suspended the jail sentence nisi and placed Greenberg in charge of the probation officer at New Britain. Trial without a jury is made possible by the new law, the defendant being given choice in the matter.

The principal witness against Greenberg was Salvatore Variola, who was brought from jail to testify. He declared that he had been forced to pay $500 to recover a stolen cargo of whisky shipped from New York. The arrest of Greenberg was made in connection with the widespread bootlegging investigation in this state.

Judge Wolf, in pronouncing sentence, said that Greenberg was a first offender and should be treated as such. The court made it clear that it believed it would be up to Greenberg to seek employment wherein the public trust was not involved.

Great glass company cuts costs with L.B.'s help

THE Macbeth-Evans Glass Co., Pittsburgh, Pa., was suffering costly delays and unnecessary expenses because its filing system had not expanded with the business.

The filing department was working day and night, trying to keep up with increased business. The periodic task of transferring occupied two to three long, weary months; and it was always necessary to call in extra assistants.

L.B. called in to help

In January, 1914, the climax was reached. This manufacturer called in Library Bureau. The L.B. Analysis Department, which is maintained to meet just such problems, analyzed the needs of the business, making due allowance for future expansion.

Then it recommended the L.B. Automatic Index, recognized as the one notable development made in filing in recent years. This system, an exclusive L.B. idea, makes it easier for the file clerk to file correctly than incorrectly. It makes quick work of filing. It makes finding, too, a swift, sure operation.

What L.B. service accomplished

The L.B. Automatic Index showed actual time and money savings as follows:

- 1—Night work was at once abolished.
- 2—The much-dreaded 3 months' task of transferring was reduced to a 3 days' job.
- 3—The expense of extra assistants for this transfer work was eliminated.

4—Although the Macbeth-Evans Glass Co.'s business has increased, the L.B. Automatic Index met the increased filing needs without increasing the number of operators.

L.B. can help you

L.B. can show you how to save time, labor and money in your filing department. It can show you how to turn your filed facts into active business producers. It can show you how to take full advantage of your present equipment; how to use costly office space to maximum advantage.
